Art Unit: 1632

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-8 and 13-15, drawn to a promoter of the synovirolin having the nucleotide sequence of SEQ ID No. 1 or 2 as recited in the claims.

Group II, claim(s) 9-12, drawn to a method for regulating transcription activity wherein the activity of the promoter of synovirolin is inhibited.

Group III, claim(s) 9-12, drawn to a method for regulating transcription activity wherein the activity of the promoter of synovirolin is enhanced.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The putative special technical feature shared by groups I-III is the promoter of synovirolin as recited. Zhao et al., 2001 (EST Accession No. BH070343) discloses mouse nucleotide sequence which is 100% identical to base 111 to base 1569 of SEQ ID No. 1. The sequence of EST Accession No. BH070343 is 100% identical to regions of nucleotides 1-2201, 969-2201, and 1-3043 etc. of SEQ ID No. 1, and would hybridize to the nucleotide sequence of SEQ ID No. 1 under stringent condition. McPherson et al., August 2002 (GenEmbl Accession No. AC131114) discloses a mouse nucleotide sequence that is 98% identical to the nucleotide sequence of SEQ ID No. 1 from base 1 to base 2201. The sequence of GenEmbl Accession No. AC131114 is 100% identical to 2120-2130 and 2118-2201 of SEQ ID No. 1, 100% identical to regions of nucleotides 1-2201, 969-2201, 1142-2201 etc. of SEQ ID No. 1, comprising a nucleotide sequence having a deletion, substitution or insertion in some regions of SEQ ID No. 1, and would hybridize to SEQ ID No. 1 under stringent condition. Thus, there is no common special technical feature contributed by the instant invention over the prior art. Further, the agent that inhibits the activity of synovirolin promoter and the agent that enhances the activity of synovirolin promoter do NOT share common core structure or common properties. Therefore, Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Upon election of any one of groups I-III, further restriction is required. Applicant is required to select either SEQ ID No. 1 or 2 for examination because SEQ ID No. 1 is a mouse sequence and SEQ ID No. 2 is a human sequence. They do not share common core structures and common properties, and require separate search. It is noted that this is a restriction requirement rather than an election of species.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
